Welcome to VIBES!

I hope this book brings a smile to your face and warmth to your heart. At TCWGlobal, we do more than just business; we foster a family of employees united by a common goal of creating positive change. Our dedication to excellence and community initiatives fills me with immense pride as CEO.

Our endeavors, however, would not reach their full potential without you, our clients. Thank you.

Whether you've recently joined the TCWGlobal family or have been a partner for decades, your trust and engagement enable us to make a substantial difference in the world.

Thanks to your support, we're able to dedicate 10% of our profits to a diverse range of global organizations; aiding thousands of individuals, animal companions, and environmental causes. But financial contributions are just the beginning: over half of our staff voluntarily donate their time and resources, aiming to increase this to 80% in the coming year. As a burgeoning program, VIBES seeks to continue to extend our philanthropic reach, including our valued Contingent Workers in meaningful philanthropic connections. Through matching gifts, information sharing, and volunteer efforts, we are expanding the VIBES initiative globally. We invite you to join us on this journey toward sustainable change and profound engagement within our workforce and in every individual we touch.

Throughout this book, join us as we highlight some of the organizations and efforts we've made this year to make our local (and global) community better for everyone. Together, let's continue to strive for meaningful change and the privilege of making a positive impact.

THE BEST!

WHAT'S UP! I'M DARIAH!

I work at TCWGlobal, and my colleagues know me as someone who's dedicated and gets things done efficiently. Over time, I've built a reputation as a strong team member. However, when I joined my first TCWGlobal VIBES event, I found a new and exciting way to connect with the community and my work.

JOURNAL MARCH 14TH: THE FIRST STEP

Today was different. Stepping outside my usual routine, I found myself volunteering at a local animal shelter with our VIBES program. I've never been surrounded by so many animals at once. Some cowered in corners, while others approached with hopeful eyes. I spent my time feeding, playing, and, most importantly, listening to the stories of these furry friends. It's surprising how the simple act of stroking a cat's back or watching a puppy wag its tail can teach you about unconditional love. Today wasn't about making a difference in the world; it was about making a difference in one small corner of it.

CASE FOR CHARACTER

SUITCASES FOR FOSTER KIDS!

JOURNAL MARCH 28TH: A PART OF THE GOOD IN THE WORLD

The fundraiser for Case for Character was enlightening. Not just the money we raised, but the joy I experienced when we all chipped in to pack the cases was beyond anything I have experienced before. Being a part of such an event reminded me that we're all part of something much larger than ourselves. It's funny how small moments make big impacts. A passing greeting in the hallway, shared laughs during workshops, cheering together during fundraisers - I can see these tiny threads weaving a fabric of belonging. It's cool, I like it. I am meeting a bunch of new people. I'm not just an employee here; I'm a part of a community, a family.

JOURNAL MAY 17TH: THE RIPPLE EFFECT

The warmth from volunteering stayed with me. I was checking my finances today when I remembered TCWGlobal's charitable match incentive – matching charitable donations. I had been wanting to give towards a local foodbank at my kid's school. It felt like serendipity. After a bit of thinking, I diverted a portion of my savings. It wasn't monumental, but if my little donation could make a big difference in a child's life, and if my company matched it, why not? I also started helping out once a month for a few hours in the morning, making my investment seem even more special.

JOURNAL AUGUST 8TH:
SEEING EVERYONE AS ONE

So far, through VIBES, I've come to recognize that diversity isn't confined to my office space. It's a global tapestry, weaving stories from every corner of the world. My most heartfelt moment ever was spent at the Corazón de Vida orphanage in Mexico. Serving there opened my eyes to see that I could impact not only my community, but the whole world.

Diversity is evident everywhere. But it's more than just having diverse teams; it's about everyone getting an equal seat at the table from the kids at the food bank to the kids at an orphanage. I've started brainstorming new VIBES initiatives and things I could do to help. I want to bring even more opportunities to those overlooked by society. Everyone has potential; it's time we all started seeing it. I admit I missed it for so long. It's weird, and I never expected volunteering to make me think of others and include them at work in so many things.

JOURNAL OCTOBER 20TH: BEYOND MYSELF

My perspective is shifting. Every small effort, every kind gesture, it creates ripples. It's not about what I can do; it's about what we can all achieve together. Social responsibility means doing our part to make the world better for everyone. I used to watch others do it, and now I do it. Good VIBES all around, that's for sure.

This is VIBES

One of the ways we live out VIBES at TCWGlobal is by engaging with organizations like the Honor Foundation; giving us the opportunity to assist retiring U.S. Special Forces as they transition into civilian life.

It's both our responsibility and privilege to provide financial support, interview readiness, business mentorship, and workforce integration. This embodies our sincere appreciation for those who've made sacrifices to ensure our freedom and security.

“VIBES isn’t limited to promoting equality in the workplace; it extends to the less fortunate in our society who lack basic resources and support, let’s work on bringing joy and showing love to everyone in need.”
